Made Money From Dandelions.
Collecting dandelions an Italian woman living in Philadelphia has been able to save $2,000 during the last 40 years. It appears that about forty years ago the woman's husband died, leaving his widow unprovided for. She started to collect dandelions, and sold them to her countrymen in the city. A few days ago she died, and it was found that her savings had accumulated to a little more than $2,000.

RENO TO LICENSE GAMES CHANCE

Reno papers say that a definite and distinct understanding on the gambling question, as to what games are permitted for money and under what conditions, by the terms of the anti-gambling act, has been reached by Attorney General Fowler and District Attorney Summerfield of Washoe county. The two officials are agreed on the proposition that five games are permitted without limit for money, and that the state, city or county authorities have a right to license such games.

The five games that are permitted, with the ceiling as the limit, provided no percentage is taken by the gamekeepers, are solo, whist, poker, stud-horse poker and five hundred, which may be lawfully played for money. All other games in which money is involved are in violation of the law and the players therein are subject to criminal prosecution.

Regarding the question of "rake-off" for the house, it was decided that a flat rate or charge for chairs, tables, cards, lights, etc., having no reference or relationship to the stakes, wages or amounts in play, is lawful and does not constitute taking a percentage. In other words, the person owning the place of business where gambling is permitted by law is carried on, may charge a reasonable flat rate for the rent of his place.

District Attorney Summerfield suggested, since the law permits certain games, that the city of Reno be permitted to issue licenses to the various proprietors of gambling houses. These men will have to pay a fee to the city for the privilege of running their places.

It was also arranged for the city to enact certain proposed laws authorizing these licenses and providing for a penalty should the rights given the proprietor be exceeded or violated. The purpose of the law is to close up the place, and prosecute the proprietor.

CHURCHILL SHEEP CAMP IS SCENE OF KILLING

Fernandez Gomez, a Portuguese shepherd, was killed by Jesus Ruiz, a Mexican camp tender, in Sagehen canyon, Churchill county, last week. Both men were in the employ of the Williams Estate company. After killing Gomez, Ruiz took the dead man's Colt's revolver and his own rifle with which he did the killing and rode on horseback into the Alpine ranch where he gave himself up to the ranch foreman, G. H. Mullison, who took him to Fallon, where he was lodged in the county jail.

KIMBERLY WILL HAVE SMELTER

The result of the findings of Vice President Thomas A. Merritt of the Consolidated Coppermines company, who recently visited the Ely district with a party of stockholders, have been incorporated in President Cotton's annual report to stockholders. President Cotton recommends the early construction of the plant and embodies in his report a report of Frederick Laist, manager of the Anaconda company's smelters and concentrator plants, who was employed by the Coppermines company to investigate the question of treating the Kimberly ores and study the questions involved. In this report Mr. Laist recommends that the plant be located at Kimberly.

The White Pine News says that, although no official information has been given out as to the date when work of construction will begin, the Coppermines company has been busy in the last two weeks locating claims in the vicinity of its holdings and buying other claims that appear to have no greater value than that of space for dumping overburden.

Mr. Laist recommends a concentrator having a capacity of 2,000 tons of porphyry ore and 150 tons of sulphide ore, and in connection therewith, a power plant capable of generating 3,000 K. W., which would furnish sufficient power for water supply, operating concentrator, smelting and mining plants; also a reverberatory smelting plant capable of smelting the concentrates resulting from the above ores as well as about 150 tons of oxidized ore per day.

The concentrator plans call for two sections, but so arranged and provided.

PRODUCING OIL AT ELKO SHALE PLANT

In the past few days many prominent oil experts have arrived in Elko and are examining the country in that vicinity and Palisade. R. T. Catlin, the pioneer oil shale operator, has been in Elko for the past week looking over his plant that is in operation. Pierce Perkins, one of the leading oil experts of the world, and representing some of the largest oil companies in the United States, was taken out last week to examine some of the oil shale deposits. David F. Day, the government oil shale expert, is also in Elko, in connection with the experimental plant. The Catlin plant is now in operation day and night, producing thousands of gallons of oil, and the Free Press says there can be no doubt but success has crowned the efforts of Mr. Catlin in the proper and successful methods of extracting the oil from the shale. With the big companies coming in it will not be long before Elko will be the center of many oil plants, and with a big refinery here things will boom.

ed with spare grinding mills and flotation machines that breakdown of one of these would not affect operations. Allowance is made for future extensions to 5,000 tons per day. The crushing plant is recommended to be capable of handling 3,000 tons per eight hours. The smelting plant will consist of a drying department containing four 20-foot 7-inch bearth Anaconda Wedge roasting furnaces; a smelting department containing one 100x20-foot coal dust fired reverberatory furnace, equipped with Stirling waste heat boilers, and a converting department containing two 12-foot diameter Great Falls type converters and stands.

HIS WORK UNSOLD ARTIST ENDS HIS LIFE

Peniless, surrounded by his unsold painting and half starved, J. H. Martin, an artist, whose pictures have been seen and admired in collections all over the United States, ended his life yesterday at Reno by shooting himself. He was found in his studio in the Gazette building by Lee Henderson, the janitor of the building who heard the shot.

Martin had been a character around Reno for the last ten years and earned a precarious living by painting western scenes. His pictures of Death Valley, Lake Tahoe, the deserts of Nevada, cattle and range scenes can be seen in many homes. The dead artist was sixty-six years old and of remarkable vitality. He was also known as the "Prospector Painter."

NEW RAILWAY TO BE PUSHED INTO NEVADA

BEND, Ore., July 17.—The first announcement of proposed new railroad construction in Oregon since the war was formally made here today when J. W. Foster of Portland, construction engineer, stated that the company, which he represents, will build from Mount Angel to Bend by way of Sisters for the newly incorporated Portland and Southeastern Railway company. Construction will not start until government control has come to an end. From Bend, the railroad, he said, will be pushed southeasterly into Nevada, where it will ultimately tie into the Western Pacific.
